REVOLUTION SEASON

Throughout the past four seasons, we have been pleased to share with you our unique perspective on classical storytelling. Our intimate staging, pared-down sets, cross-gender casting, live music and youthful spirit have been embraced by OKC, making it clear that RTC fills an important niche in our community. We are privileged to have gained your support and patronage.

We call the 2012-2013 season, our 'Revolution' season because our influence and outreach is bigger than ever before - and our driving concepts are more radical than you've ever seen! This fall, catch a murderous, musical romp through a Weimar-era cabaret with Richard III. In the spring, see the heart-warming tale of love's won and Love's Labour's Lost set in 1950's Spain, and celebrate the season with the swashbuckling a

Education this year in Metropolitan Library (5 weeks this spring), and Kids' program, 45-min penned for RTC that into classic texts. And, com youth theatre camp!
